Beacon House, Inc. Awarded Grant from Green Bay Packers Foundation

Green Bay, WI – February 22, 2010 – Beacon House, Inc., a healing resource center located in downtown Green Bay, announced a grant award from the Green Bay Packers Foundation. The Beacon House was one of 62 charitable organizations located in Wisconsin that received part of an overall disbursement of $176,534. The Beacon House officially received the grant today on February 22, 2010 at an award luncheon. This grant will aid in maintaining our educational programs and therapeutic services offered at the Beacon House located at 430 S. Webster Ave.

The Beacon House continues to extend a helping hand to a growing population of individuals in Northeast Wisconsin who are experiencing a life-changing health situation. In 2009, more than 1,085 individuals found their way at Beacon House to move from survival to a better quality of life. Christine Seidl, director and founder, commented, “We are so grateful for the Packers Foundation’s generous contribution and the support of our efforts to meet the growing needs – emotional, physical and spiritual, of those living with chronic illness and injury.”

With the receipt of this award, the Beacon House is able to launch our “2010 Adopt-the-Beacon House” campaign that invites businesses, individuals and foundations to pledge their financial support, so we are able to offer our programs on a sliding fee scale for all who participate.
